

HOME SCHOOL

READY

You have got this

Don't put pressure on yourself. You have dealt with a lot worse than this

Just take it one day at a time. Step by step.

The essentials

- Transition Social Story to enable learning outside of school environment
- Area to work every day
- Visual timetable
- Timer
- Reward Chart
- SOW (Scheme of Work) A plan of what you want to achieve over the next number of weeks

You DO NOT have to set up a home school from day one.

Every child is different, some will need a intensive timetable straight away to maintain structure and routine. Some will need a little more time to adjust and that is fine.

IT IS IMPORTANT TO REMEMBER THAT THE DFE DOES NOT CURRENTLY ENDORSE ANY SPECIFIC ONLINE LEARNING PLATFORMS AT KEY STAGE 2,3 & 4. BE MINDFUL WEBSITES THAT ARE CURRENTLY RECOMMENDING LINKS MANY HAVE AFFILIATE ADVERTISING AGREEMENTS. THERE IS NO NEED TO SPEND MONEY AT THIS POINT WHEN THERE ARE SO MANY RESOURCES FREENONE OF THE LINKS ON THIS PAGE ARE AFFILIATE LINKS AND ARE COMPILED BY OUR EXPERTS TRAINED TEACHERS AND SPECIAL NEEDS CONSULTANTS.

My child needs routine and schedule.

- Use the social story to help transition the learning to home
- Try to mimic the school timetable where possible.
- We have free social stories in our RESOURCE BANK which you can use to transition the timetable
- Have a defined space for work & rewards
- Utilise timers to help understand beginning and end to activity.
- Try and ensure the area you choose to work in has minimal visual distractions
- Use our FREE reward chart for breaks in learning.
- Enjoy this time - there is no pressure on you to create a perfect learning environment. Just do little bits each day.

My child is more flexible with changes to routine

- Take it easier - slowly introduce a learning schedule at home.
- Working from a few hours a day and building up to a full schedule
- Use the reward chart to work in rewards for achieving goals or tasks.
- Enjoy this time with your child, don't force the situation. No one is going to assess your performance to implement home schooling.

The DFE at present has only provided approved online learning tools for EY we are working with the DFE to identify new tools they would encourage families to use until then we have put a list of what we would consider gold standard because they have been made by professionals across the UK and further afield.

It is important that the tools you use as parent are aligned to the curriculum your child is studying. Whether that is the NC, IB or alternative curriculum.

Many of the apps offering free subscription at this time are fantastic learning tools but not necessarily aligned to the UK curriculum.

RESOURCE BANK

You can find all of the following on our RESOURCE BANK all FREE, DOWNLOAD and SHARE as many times as you like
